Televised Seminar
Corporate and Commercial Hot Topics

The Law Society is pleased to present the seventh annual televised seminar. The seminar will be hosted live at the University of Regina and broadcast to many centers throughout Saskatchewan.

The seminar is designed to provide updates, insights and practical advice on hot topics in the areas of corporate and commercial law. We will hear from accomplished practitioners from across the province who have extensive experience in these areas.

The seminar will cover a wide range of topics from the creation of family trusts to farm incorporation to construction procurement tips and traps. The Planning Committee has also incorporated several trending hot topics, including online raffles, solicitation and marketing, as well as, the securities and tax law implications associated with crowd funding. The seminar also includes a session on how to avoid common mistakes when buying and selling a business, and a discussion related specifically to buying and selling franchises. The program will close with a review of several ethical scenarios specific to corporate commercial lawyers.

Don't miss this unique opportunity!
