

Lawyers

Do you enjoy helping customers through their legal challenges and procedures? Are you ready for a work environment that can challenge your legal mind and provide you with experience that will develop your skills and build your litigation career?

If this sounds like you, SGI is hiring two (2) lawyers in Regina, a corporate lawyer and a litigation lawyer:

1) Associate Counsel Corporate

The Associate Counsel Corporate is a legal resource for our organization providing legal support on corporate related matters including contracts, procurement, trademark etc.

2) Associate Counsel Litigation

The Associate Counsel Litigation is a legal resource for our customer base and will have the opportunity to learn and develop your skills as you assist our legal team with litigation files.

In either of these roles your technical expertise and confidence enables you to provide sound legal advice to various areas within the organization, with a primary focus on assisting internal and external customers to navigate through legal jargon and processes. Your charismatic style enables you to lead by example in supporting a culture of leadership and accountability focused on delivering on strategic and corporate strategies.

Requirements

Candidates must bring the education and experience to succeed in this exciting opportunity — after all, we're counting on you. Our ideal candidates will have at least 2 years' experience as a lawyer. Candidates must also have completed a law degree and have membership, or are eligible for membership, with the Law Society of Saskatchewan. Some travel may be required.

Why SGI?

Because when you start here, you want to stay here. We offer a wide range of benefits and invest in career development to meet the needs of our employees. We embrace diversity, recognizing and celebrating our differences and our similarities. With careers as diverse as our employees, join our caring culture of employee empowerment within a great community of people.
