

Find Legal Assistance Directory Search Guidance

The Find Legal Assistance Directory helps find members of the Law Society of Saskatchewan licensed to practice law and provide legal services. It is possible to search by legal professional name (first, middle, last) as well as:

- area of law or legal issue
- firm/organization
- gender pronouns
- languages spoken
- licensing category (lawyer or limited licensee)
- location (city/town)
- pricing/payment model
- seniority
- service models

For best results, fill in only two or three search options and then click the Search button which will return a list of results.

After Your Search

Once you search, select “Details” next to a legal professional’s name in the list of results to see their contact information.

For limited licensees, details of their permitted services will also be listed.

Does the Legal Professional Have a Discipline History or Practice Restriction?

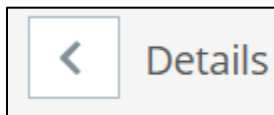

You may see a variety of coloured icons alongside a professional’s name in the results list.

These icons indicate that a professional may have a discipline history or practice restriction. More information is provided in that professional’s details record.

Returning to the Results

After viewing a professional’s information, return to the search results by clicking the arrow at the upper left of the screen.

Do not use the browser back button as this will not return you to the main search results properly.
